The tobacco crop was baco and pork really short and is grown in avery limited portion of this country, so it is easily con matched. Cotton is grown in all the countries of the world, and there is hardcountries of the world, and there is hardly a human being that does not consume some cotton goods. The tobacco and pork speculators having made large amounts of money by bulling them and fluding the rise is over, have sold out, and thinking cotton was cheap and believing the bureau report that the crop would be less than three millions, have bought 50,000 bales of contracts for March, April, May and June; upon which they will be likely to lose all they have made on tobacco and pork.

One of the confederate regiments, the 48th Georgia, which entered the war with full ranks and surrendered at Appomattox with only 31 men able to bear arms, held a reunion a few days ago. A remark of its commander, Col. Gibson, is worth the attention of that numerous class of northern fire-eaters who insist that the south is preparing to break out into a second rebellion. In his address, he put the whole subject in a nutshell, saying: "To any man who says I want to renew the war, I say you did not do your duty in the last one." In nine cases out of ten that reply exactly fits the case.

Nothern Methodism, through its leading New York organ, the Christian Adyocate, has at last virtually confessed that the negro, even under the most favoring circumstances, is incapable of either ecclesiastical or civil self-government. The Advocate frankly states that such a confession is distressing—is sincerely sorry to learn the facts upon which it is based, and hopes against hope that an investigation by one of its bishops will afford some chance of escape from the humiliating admission.

Liberia is the country that has opened the eyes of the northern-Methodists to the negro's incapacity. The colony was the darling dream of the anti-slavery agitators, and the pet of the colonizationists. ocratic victories of Tuesday are intended to neutralize just that and nothing more, and for this the Washington organ howls against "the conquered rebels and their sympathizers."

There is a snarl and a growl all along the radical line, with very few exceptions. Even Deacon Richard Smith lost his equanimity, and attributed the results to the "cussedness" of the democracy. The Republic, however, had the manliness to acknowledge that "the republicans were badly defeated in the west yesterday. The Republic, however, had the manliness to acknowledge that "the republicans were badly defeated in the west yesterday. There is no use in denying the ugly fact, and not much sat-isfaction in attempting to account for it." If the radicals howl and snarl now, when four states-Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Arkansas enlist under the Democratic banner, what will they do redistricting the state. The fat senator in that state will soon have leave to re-turn to his law books, and Morton—poor Morton—has taken the fast train for California. THE latest returns give the democrat a clear majority in the Indiana legislature over the combined vote of the republicans and independents. When we consider that of 24 senators holding over 17 are radicals, and that the radicals had outrageously cut up the districts to suit their interests, this result is especially gratifying. "Old Reliable:"—This is the complimen tary title now bestowed upon "Er Lawshe," the famous jeweler of Atlanta—famous for his integrity as a man, and for his discernment, reliability and efficiency in his art. His reputation is broader than the confines of the Empire state, and no dealer of his kind enjoys a larger trade or more of the confidence of his fellow-citizens. Once trade with him, and he is sure of your custom ever afterwards. His stock is select, pure and beautiful, and what he recommends, you may depend upon it, there is nothing spurious about it. Had we a million to spend for fine jewelry, Er Lawshe would get every cent of it.

Editors Constitution: The people of At and found gates shall up or stalls empty, and that you had to go home as you came, with the prospect of feeding until next day upon blacuits and batter caves! We remember all that, we appreciate fully the present system, we are satisfied with it, and we do not feed fanatical enough of the past to desire its removal. In so speaking, we are certain we sneak and think like the layer.

certain we speak and think like the large majority of our people; and we dare say, in the name of them, that we need no market, and moreover, that we have no money to throw away on another experiment!

We understand the necessity of markets in a large city. When our grandchildren will have grown to that necessity, they will in a large city. When our grandchildren will have grown to that necessity, they will find plenty of convenient sites for that purpose. It is not required that markets be in a central location: Fulton and Washington markets, in New York are not in the center of the city; they are both located at the opposite limits of the city, north and south-cast. Let us remark here that these two great markets are especially useful to provide, by the wholesaic, to the retailers of the city, to the hotel and restaurant keepers, and that the immense majority of the citzens do not come to these institutions, but buy their meat, vegetables and produce from the shops near by their homes. That is just what we do now, and what we want to continue to do. That is the reason why we say that we do not want a market house, and that our council has done well to this day in refusing to entertain any proposition.

Haverly's Minstrels. "end men"-and "song and dance men."
The press in other cities highly laud this company. We quote the St. Louis Republican, for Instance, as follows:
It is saying a great deal to assert that Mr. John Haverly has a better troupe than he had when here last. There are several new features which add to fire attractions and completeness. Prominent among these are completeness. Prominent among Messrs. E. M. Hall and Milt. C Hall is a banjoist who is a complet port the acceptant to make an each prove a great feature every night. Another new performer is Bark w. He is one of the end men—bones—and makes things lively with characteristic songs, a splendid stump with characteristic songs, a splendid stump speech, the Captain of the Hooligan Grards, etc. He also does a characteristic part—the old southern darkey—to the life, and is good in everything he undertakes Mr. George Wilson, the tamborine end man, is an old sequalitance, and good as ever. Then there are Goss & Fox. song and dance men; Canfield and Booker, ditto; the California quartette, consisting of the Wellington brothers and Freeth—all excellent features. The performance passed off with great celat, and the standard of the business has been already established—fine.

Mr. J. Youngbard, the man whose arres we noticed on Friday, for counterfeiting was tried before the United States commissioner yesterday. The prisoner proves that the $20 counterfeit bill he was charged with passing, was received by him from Mr. Grant; also that i was so skillfully executed that it would require an expert to detect it. It is strange yet true, that as a rule it is the brightest intellects, the best members of society become addicted to this diseased appetite. A habit which makes them slaves beelouds their minds, ruins their disposi tions, and gives them in their more natural moments a hatred of solf as well as a feel ing that everybody despises them—to such an extent that society has no charms. Bu thanks to the Giver of all good, this morbid terrible habit, and degraded condition, as well as all of the desire and feeling for opiates in any form is soon removed by this remarkable antidote, entirely so, and the weskened body and mind are invigorated, given renewed health until love and hope take the place of despondency and doubt.
Though you may not be afflicted with the
